

Grafton Homeowners Can Sign Up For Waterline Protection Warranties

09/13/2012

Grafton's introducing a new optional program to homeowners to give warranty protection to waterlines.

Grafton residents will soon see a mailing offering them the opportunity to sign up for water service line warranty protection from the Service Line Warranties of America. The water service line warranty protection costs four-dollars-25-cents per month. It covers the waterline repairs up to four-thousand-dollars plus 500-dollars for sidewalk cutting if that's necessary.

The water service line warranty program offers residents protection if the waterline breaks from the point of utility maintenance to their houses. Homeowners are responsible for that and repair costs can be a budget buster.

32-percent of Grafton homeowners signed up for sewer service line protection last spring. This mailer is for water service line protection if you are interested.
